

Government of Canada Invests in Manufacturing Business in Ontario

January 11th, 2013 Belleville, Ontario.

The member of Parliament for Prince Edward-Hastings, Daryl Kramp, on behalf of the honourable Gary Goodyear, Minister of State for the Federal Economic Development Agency for Southern Ontario (FedDev Ontario), announced the investment of a $500,000 repayable contribution provided through the Prosperity Initiative to Gunther Huettlin Manufacturing Inc.

“Through this investment, GH Manufacturing will be better positioned to service its customers, improve operating efficiency, and acquire new business. This will help to diversify the economy in Belleville, and create innovation, new opportunities for the expanding manufacturing industry within the region.”

Gunther Huettlin Manufacturing Inc. (GH) is a packaging company which offers a system of services to work on projects around the world. GH Manufacturing Inc. has developed a system which allows them to partner with companies all over the world “- working transparently on projects from conception to execution - providing their customers with freedom to focus on creativity and sales growth objectives”.

With the help of the Government of Canada, GH Manufacturing capacity will be greatly improved. With the installment of three high speed production lines, it will create jobs for residents in the Belleville area. The investment will also help the company to compete for new North American business. “We are pleased to have the support of the Government of Canada on this project,” said Gunther Huettlin, President and CEO, GH Manufacturing. “This support allows us to create employment benefiting both our employees and the community.”
